SITE

A hidden vineyard, tucked in a foggy canyon, just 4 miles east of and 600ft. above the sea. Syrah clones Estrella + Syrah Noir planted in the late 1990s. Soil is a deep colluvial fan of sand + calcareous marine deposits with excellent drainage. Exchange of fog/sun ensures proper vine respiration and very even ripening. Maritime climate necessitates (very) extended hang times. Farmed by Prudy Foxx, aka "the Vine Whisperer."

PRODUCED AND BOTTLED BY LIOCO, SANTA ROSA, CA.

VINIFICATION

2.43 tons of Syrah hand-harvested and sorted on the chilly morning of November 2nd. Fermented 75% whole cluster on wild yeasts. A 5-day cold soak preceded a gentle pressing 21-days later. The wine was aged in used French puncheons and barriques on the lees without any SO₂ until bottling. Bottled unfiltered.
